DEBATE(?)

The first U.S. Presidential debate for 2016 is now history. Donald Trump and Hillary Clinton were “on stage” for a ninety minute farce called a debate. I call it a farce because it certainly was not (in my opinion) a debate.

OXFORD LIVING DICTIONARY DEFINITION OF THE WORD DEBATE:

NOUN

1. A formal discussion on a particular topic in a public meeting or legislative assembly, in which opposing arguments are put forward.

1.1 An argument about a particular subject, especially one in which many people are involved.

The ninety minutes was spent by Hillary Clinton and Lester Holt (Moderator) trying to make Donald Trump look as though he was not a politician. Wait a minute. Donald Trump as far as I know has only been placed as a political candidate for President for the first time this year. Has he ever run for political office before this year? Well, I guess Hillary and Lester did a good job of pointing out that Trump is not a “professional” politician after all. Maybe this means he is not beholding to any special interest groups such as Hillary is. [Foreign countries, many of which the U.S. does not call friends, give money to the “Clinton Foundation.” How do you spell “hypocrisy”?]

Neither Trump nor Clinton were to have any knowledge beforehand of questions to be asked of them. Again, I say wait just a minute. I do not recall Clinton being asked any question that impugned her actions while she was a lawyer for the Rose Law firm in Arkansas. I do not recall Clinton being asked any question that impugned her actions while she was First Lady of Arkansas. I do not recall Clinton being asked any question that impugned her actions while she was First Lady of the United States. I do not recall Clinton being asked any question that impugned her actions while she was a Junior Senator of the United States. I do not recall Clinton being asked any question about her actions while she was Secretary of State concerning Benghazi. I do not recall Clinton being asked any question that impugned her actions while she was Secretary of State for having an illegal internet server. I do not recall Clinton being asked any question that impugned her actions while she Secretary of State concerning thousands of emails she purposely deleted. I do not recall Clinton being asked any question that impugned her actions while she was Secretary of State concerning actions on her part that for anyone else would disqualify them to even consider running for any U.S. Government position.

Was Hillary Clinton not asked questions concerning her activities that took place throughout her political career because she is a woman, because she is a Democrat Social Liberal, or possibly because her name is Clinton?

It was not up to Donald Trump to ask Hillary tough questions. It was up to Lester Holt to ask each one of the candidates questions people wanted to know about. By the way, if you check you will find (I believe) Lester Holt should not carry all the blame for the farce called a Presidential debate held on September 26, 2016.

Much of the blame for the hypocrisy that was called a debate goes to those people who call themselves Democrat and Republican, who sat on a council okaying the choice of who the Moderator of the “debate(?)” would be. They also should be held to account for allowing one man (Lester Holt) to pose questions who he himself said the questions he would ask were his and no one else’s. Accountability should not only be required of the candidates being “questioned” but also for the moderator and the “debate(?)” council.

Who won the debate? The question should not be who won the debate, but who lost? The answer to who lost is the American people.

NON AMERICANS

Hillary Clinton recently stated that if you are a Trump supporter and one who is against Islam, and homosexuality, then you are not American. Her exact, on the record, words were, and I quote, “You can put half of Trump supporters into what I call the 'basket of deplorables.' Right? They're racist, sexist, homophobic, xenophobic, Islamaphobic, you name it... Now some of those folks, they are irredeemable, but thankfully they are not American.” (Unquote)

I quote here what someone has said concerning Hillary Clinton's remarks about the people who are not American: “Now, all of a sudden, if someone depises the demonic religion of Islam, or satanic and deplorable sodomites, then they are 'not American.' Someone needs to teach this Jezebel some history.” (Unquote)

WAS THE PERSON WHO SAID THE FOLLOWING NOT AMERICAN?

“The precept of the Koran is, perpetual war against all who deny, that Mahomet is the prophet of God. The vanquished may purchase their lives, by payment of tribute; the victorious may be appeased by a false and delusive promise of peace; and the faithful follower of the prophet, may submit to the imperious necessities of defeat: but the command to propagate the Moslem creed by sword is always obligatory, when it can be made effective. The commands of the prophet may be performed alike, by fraud, or by force.”

I have a question about the person who said the preceding. Was President John Quincy Adams, sixth President of the U.S., not American because of his beliefs and comments about the Koran and Mohammad?

Christians, American people, had better wake up before it is too late.
