

The Arrest of Christ Mark 14:43

Well, today on "It's a Good Life," we continue our study in the life of Christ, and this would be lesson number 10, the arrest of Christ. This first part of this, if I would give it a name, I would have to give it the name, "The Kiss of Love from a Heart of Hate." Following Christ's agony in the garden of Gethsemane, Jesus knew that the hour was at hand, according to Matthew 26:45, and that He must soon drink from the terrible cup which the Father had given Him to drink, according to John 18:11.

But I want you to notice a few things about Jesus as He was in the garden. We've already talked about the agony of Christ, but notice in John 18:3, it says, Judas then, having received a band of men... this would be soldiers... and officers from the chief priests and Pharisees.... Now the word "band" in this verse is a military term which refers to a Roman cohort, which at full strength consisted of one-tenth of a legion. A legion was made up of 6,000 soldiers; and then we would see that a cohort at full strength would be about 600 soldiers. Whether there were actually 600 Roman soldiers present in the garden we can't be sure, but certainly, there was a great number.

Now, in addition to the Roman soldiers, there were also Jewish leaders with their officers, according to John 18:3, which we've already read here, and this would be the temple police. So we see that not only were Roman soldiers present, about 600, but there was also represented there temple police. The combined power of the Jews and Romans was brought against one unarmed man, according to the Scriptures.

And then we see that the children of darkness carried their lanterns and torches so that they might seize the Light of the world. In John 8:12, it says, Then spake Jesus again unto them, saying, I am the light of the world: he that followeth me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life.

So we see that, not only were Roman soldiers involved in this and the temple police, but there were also people following along. Now, I know that, on our roads and highways if there's an accident or something taking place, we call it rubbernecking as people stop to watch or they drive slowly to see what's going on with an accident that has taken place on the road.

I believe this is somewhat what was taking place here as the kiss of love from a heart of hate was about to take place. These people saw the Roman soldiers and they saw the temple police, and so therefore, I believe naturally the crowd built as these people marched along. They wanted to see, "Hey, what's happening here? What's going on? We want to see what's happening. Let's follow and let's see where all these people are headed." So, in other words, as these people went to the garden to arrest Christ, they picked up people along the way who just simply wanted to come along for the ride to see what was going on.

When Judas appeared in the garden with all of those who were with him, the Lord was not taken by surprise. Now, some people think, well, the Lord was caught off guard here. No, He wasn't. In Mark 14:43, it says, And immediately, while he yet spake, cometh Judas, one of the twelve, and with him a great multitude with swords and staves, from the chief priests and the scribes and the elders.

John 18:3, once again, says, Judas then, having received a band of men and officers from the chief priests and Pharisees, cometh thither with lanterns and torches and weapons.

And then we read in Matthew 26:21-25, it says, ²¹*And as they did eat...* Now, this is at the Lord's table, the Lord's supper... he said, Verily I say unto you, that one of you shall betray me. ²²*And they were exceeding sorrowful, and began every one of them to say unto him, Lord, is it I?* ²³*And he answered and said, He that dippeth his hand with me in the dish, the same shall betray me.* ²⁴*The Son of man goeth as it is written of him: but woe unto that man by whom the Son of man is betrayed! it had been good for that man if he had not been born.* ²⁵*Then Judas, which betrayed him, answered and said, Master, is it I? He said unto him, Thou hast said.*

And then in Matthew 26:46, it says, Rise, let us be going: behold, he is at hand that doth betray me.

John 18:4 says, Jesus therefore, knowing all things that should come upon him, went forth, and said unto them, Whom seek ye?

So, Jesus was not taken by surprise as these individuals came to arrest Him. They came to take Him away. He was not taken by surprise as Judas approached Him. Judas had previously made arrangements with the enemies of Christ and given them a clear sign by which they could easily identify the one they should arrest. And of course, you know the narrative here in Mark 14:44, he would let them know by a kiss. It says there, And he that betrayed him had given them a token, saying, Whomsoever I shall kiss, that same is he; take him, and lead him away safely.

Now, the word "kiss" here comes from a Jewish verb, phileo, which also means to love, to show affection towards a friend or a loved one, and the noun, philos, means friend. Judas performed this most horrible deed under the guise of friendship and loving affection. The word "kissed" as it is used in Mark 14:45 and Matthew 26:49 actually indicates that Judas kissed Jesus fervently, a kiss that was prolonged with a show of affection.

And notice what the Lord said to Judas in Luke 22:48: But Jesus said unto him, Judas, betrayest thou the Son of man with a kiss? Now, Jesus knew what was going to happen, but the point here is that Judas held onto Christ as he would hold onto someone that he really loved, but he was a liar. He was a thief, the Bible says, from the beginning. Christ knew him.

And before we say too much against Judas, let us search our own hearts. "Do I really love the Lord Jesus, or am I a phony, a pretender? Is my affection for Christ sincere? Do I kiss the Lord on Sunday while in church and then betray Him the rest of the week by the way I live and the things I do? Do I really belong with the disciples of Christ, or do I belong with the enemies of Christ?" We need to search our own hearts, and we need to ask ourselves that question: "Am I a pretender? Do I know Jesus as my Savior?"

Judas was a pretender. He was not saved. And my question goes to you today: Have you asked Jesus into your heart? You need to search your heart, and if you haven't asked Him to come in... "Lord Jesus, come into my heart"... you need to do that this very day.

Well, not only do we see the kiss of love from a heart of hate, and that kiss of love came from Judas; he had a heart of hate, but we also see the Captive who was in complete command. We've already said this did not take Jesus by surprise.

And notice after the identification what happened here after Judas kissed Him. When the Lord identified Himself as I Am, the soldiers, the Jews, and Judas fell to the ground. In John 18:4-6, it says, ⁴*Jesus therefore, knowing all things that should come upon him, went forth, and said unto them, Whom seek ye? ⁵*They answered him, Jesus of Nazareth. Jesus saith unto them, I am he. And Judas also, which betrayed him, stood with them. ⁶*As soon then as he had said unto them, I am he, they went backward, and fell to the ground.*

I don't know about you, but if I'd been in that group and that had happened, I would know there was something going on here, and as readers of the Old Testament, these people should have known if they were actually in the Scriptures and actually read the Old Testament, they would understand that Jesus was saying, "I Am God. I Am. I Am the One who was the Creator. I Am all in all." And to prove that, when He said that, they all went backwards. They all fell to the ground.

But notice something. The Son of God was in complete command of the situation. Once again, He was not taken by surprise. After the Lord identified Himself, He allowed the mob to take Him away, according to John 18:12. It says, Then the band and the captain and officers of the Jews took Jesus and bound him.

Jesus willingly and voluntarily let them take Him. Without His permission, it would have been impossible for them to take Him. John 7:30 says, Then they that sought to take him: but no man laid hands on him, because his hour was not yet come. This was before this happened now. The Bible tells us there were times when people wanted to take Jesus because it was not time yet.

And we need to understand that Jesus willingly and voluntarily at this time let them take Him because His hour had come. Mark 14:41 says, *And he cometh the third time, and saith unto them, Sleep on now, and take your rest: it is enough, the hour is come; behold, the Son of man is betrayed into the hands of sinners. And He said this just before the band came to take Him.

Now, there's a prayer that Jesus never prayed. Peter rushed to the Lord's rescue with great zeal and poor aim, according to John 18:10. Then Simon Peter having a sword drew it, and smote the high priest's servant, and cut off his right ear. The servant's name was Malchus. But Jesus' response to Peter's rescue attempt... Jesus healed the ear of Malchus.

Well, many things can be said of this arrest that took place, and Jesus did not pray to be rescued, because He said, The cup which my Father hath given me, shall I not drink it? (John 18:11)

And we read on in the Scriptures how that the Lord was forsaken by those. And He predicted that all people would forsake Him at this point. All His disciples would be afraid; they would run. And this, once again, is a fulfillment of Old Testament prophecy. Zechariah 13:7 talks about that.

Do you know Christ today as your Savior? Ask Him to come into your heart. "Lord Jesus, come into my heart. I receive You as my Lord and Savior."

And if you do know Him as your Savior, are you living for Him? If not, the Bible says, if we confess our sin, He is faithful and just to forgive us our sin and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness. Live for Him today. Let Jesus be the King of your heart.

Well, it's been good being with you today, and next week, we'll continue our study and we'll look at lesson number 11, the trials of Christ. And we're studying, of course, the life of Christ.

Let me remind you to look at our Website, www.LRWM.org. On the Website, you'll be able to download a transcript of this program and other programs of "It's a Good Life." You'll also find Bible study helps on there.

Or you can write to me, Lewis Woodard, 497 Judith Avenue, Fruitland Park, FL 34731, and let me know you're listening to the program.

And if you would like a transcript of this program, once again, you can either go to the Website or write to me and ask me, and I'll send you absolutely free of charge a transcript of "It's a Good Life."

Well, once again, it's been good being with you. And let me remind you that I'll be praying for you. I've honestly never met you personally, but God knows who you are, and as I pray for those who listen to this program, I'm praying for you...you who listen to this program.

Until the next time when you hear me say, "It is a good life," may the Lord bless you richly is my prayer.
